“As a former educator, I understand the successes and challenges our clients face, and it is a pleasure to advise each in any and all scenarios.”

WG

Ryan Pacher not only comes from a family full of educators, he was a special education elementary behavior teacher with College Station ISD, working with pre-k through fourth grade. Through his firsthand experience, he became aware of the legal needs in public education which prompted his decision to attend law school. Ryan's prior experience and background in education brings a unique perspective to addressing our client's needs.

Ryan earned his law degree from South Texas College of Law Houston, where he graduated Magna Cum Laude. Prior to Walsh Gallegos, he worked for a large civil firm representing clients in both litigation and bankruptcy related matters.

Ryan focuses his practice in the areas of Employment, Facilities & Business, Governance, and Students.
